Description & Website

Business Unit Manager for Power Generation projects located in the 23 French speaking countries of Sub-Saharan Africa. Managing the sales, project execution and P&L of Siemens new power projects, I am mainly active on projects which consist of biomass power plants and highly efficient small combined cycle gas power plants based on the SGT-800 (57MW) as an alternative to HFO motor plants. In complement to those standard power generation projects, I see that hybrid solutions including batteries, solar and reactive compensation technologies are more and more part of the picture of tomorrow's energy mix in Africa.
